Akilur Rahman

CTO - ABB India

Akilur Rahman, CTO - ABB India has 29 years of experience in research, business R&D, technology management, engineering, business and product development in ABB.

He has Master's degree in Technology from IIT Kharagpur with strong experience in power and automation technologies for utilities and industries. He has held various international and global roles in India, Germany and Switzerland. Akilur was responsible for building up ABB's global software product development in India. Led global engineering in process automation and ABB's Corporate Research center in Bangalore.

Was global head of cyber security in process automation division of ABB, addressing cyber security in R&D, standardisation, products, projects and plant operations. Presented cyber security in several international conferences and forums.

As CTO - ABB India, leading ABB's core technologies, automation, robotics, Industrial IoT and Digitalization enhancing customer values and user experience.

Akilur has been a speaker and panelist at various international and national conferences.